SEE – ISCHGL

Welcome to the Clubdorf in See near Ischgl!

Breathe in the fresh mountain air, take in the fantastic scenery and enjoy the pride and satisfaction you get from conquering a peak or meeting your personal target. However, don't forget that you are on holiday and take it easy. Read our suggestions for tours in the area:

THESE ARE OUR SUGGESTIONS FOR WALKING AND HIKING IN AND AROUND SEE:

FROM WATERFALL TO WATERFALL

Easy tour, distance: 10 km, takes about one and a half hours

You can hear it when you are outside the Clubdorf hotels or on your balcony: The sound of the near Schallerbach waterfalls. Near the Clubdorf there is a path leading you along the stream to four beautiful waterfalls. Take a deep breath and feel the energy at this place before you carry on. The path ends at the bathing lake.

FROM MEDRIGALM TO VERSINGALPE

Easy tour, distance: 10 km, difference in altitude: 490 m, takes about 3 hours

With your Silvretta Card you can head off straight away and for free. Take the cable car to the Medrigalm on 1,800 metres and from there follow the broad path up to the Ascherhütte, a rustic hut on 2,256 metres that lies on the Culinary Camino de Santiago. Therefore this is the perfect place for a break and to refuel. Enjoy some traditional delicacies and put up your feet in the sunshine. On your way back you pass the Versingalpe on 1,937 metres, boasting a petting zoo. It's also the place where our tasty mountain cheese and ham come from. Have a taste and don't forget to take some with you as a souvenir!

HABIGEN – STIELALPE

Intermediate tour, distance: 20 km, difference in altitude: 1,061 m, takes about 6 hours

From the valley station of the cable car in See walking towards Ischgl you take a left just after the corner shop „Rosi's Feinkost“ and walk up the hill, passing an alpine dairy on your right. Walking through the hamlets Klaus and Neder you will reach Gande, where the road ends. Carry on along the path towards Habigen but keep to your left uphill through the Flath valley until you reach the Stielalpe. Note that it is not serviced. Enjoy the panorama view and take a break before you follow the Istalanz stream back to the woodland path leading you past the Hubertus chapel back to the village. For a more detailed description pick up one of the booklets at the tourism office.

FURGLERJOCH – FUGLER (3,004 m)

Advanced tour, distance: 15 km, difference in altitude: 1,290 m, takes about 7 hours

Take the cable car up to the Medrigalm and walk to the Ascherhütte on 2,256 metres. Path number 702 takes you to the Furglerjoch, the saddle on the left of the Furgler peak (on 3,004 metres). Return on the same path or carry on to Serfaus for a larger tour. The tourism office offers guided tours to the Furgler peak.

PAZNAUNER HÖHENWEG („PATH OF HEIGHTS“)

The Clubdorf is the perfect starting point for a walk on the Höhenweg. Enjoy a hearty breakfast and prepare your packed lunch at the buffet so you are ready for the first stage of your tour:

STARTER STAGE

Intermediate tour, distance: 17 km, takes about 7 hours

Walk past the Clubdorf Hotel Astoria up to the hamlet Frödenegg and then follow the path on historic grounds: The Giggler Tobel is a ravine that was one of the battle scenes of the Tirolean Rebellion in 1809, headed by the later folk hero Andreas Hofer. 800 riflemen managed to fight off 1,500 bavarian soldiers. They were helped by 100 women from See, who, headed by „S‘Stöffele“ Stephan Krismer, were armed with dung forks and threw rocks from the top of the ravine down onto the enemies.

Carrying on, you get to the Almstüberl, an abandoned inn on the way to the Ascherhütte. A chapel marks the beginning of the Höhenweg, leading through larch woods and past the Giggel stream. After a short and steep climb you reach a fantastic vista point – perfect for a break and a picnic.

With renewed energy you continue your tour until you reach the Ascherhütte, a rustic hut on 2,256 metres that lies on the Culinary Camino de Santiago. Therefore it is a must to try some of the traditional dishes served. Enjoy the sun and take a deep breath.

Get on the path to Medrigalm (1,800 metres) on your way back. From there you can take the cable car down to the village, which is free with your Silvretta Card.

THESE ARE THE OTHER STAGES OF THE PAZNAUNER HÖHENWEG:

2. stage: „Through the lower valley“ leading from the Ascherhütte over the Gampertalpe to Kappl. (altitude: 920 m ascent / 2,000 m descent, 21.5 km)

3. stage: The „Smugglers‘ stage“ marks the route from Kappl into the Visnitz valley to Ischgl. (altitude: 2,000 m ascent / 1,800 m descent, 21 km)

4. stage: The „Upper valley dream“ heads from Ischgl into the Larain valley to Galtür. (altitude: 1,800 m ascent / 1,600 m descent, 16 km)

5. stage: The „Relaxing stage“ leads from Galtür to the Friedrichshafener Hütte. (altitude: 850 m ascent / 250 m descent, 7 km)

6. stage: On the „Ludwig Dürr path“ you hike from the Friedrichshafener to the Darmstädter Hütte. (altitude: 1,150 m ascent / 950 m descent, 10 km)

7. stage: The „Advocats‘ path“ and the „Hoppe Seyler path“ lead you to the Niederelbehütte. (altitude: 1,000 m ascent / 1,100 descent, 9 km)

8. stage: Along the „Kieler path“ and the „Riffler path“ you reach the Edmund-Graf-Hütte. (altitude: 700 m ascent / 600 m descent, 9 km)

9. stage: Finally the „King’s stage“ of the Höhenweg ends back in our village See. (altitude: 1,150 m ascent / 2,600 m descent, 22 km)

SAFETY FIRST! GOLDEN RULES FOR A SUCCESSFUL HIKE:

Any walking or hiking activities in high altitudes are a challenge for your body. Please be realistic about your own and your fellow hikers' fitness; especially when you bring children along! Set a pace you all can keep up with. It will make your tour an enjoyable experience for everyone!

Make sure to get an up-to-date hiking map indicating the level of difficulty, difference in heights and distance as well as the latest information about weather conditions. Our reception staff is more than happy to help.

Appropriate equipment like rugged shoes and a light rucksack can make a real difference. Weather conditions in the mountains can change quickly, so bring the right clothes to protect you from rain, cold and sun too. Don't carry on in bad weather or darkness, it's not worth the risk.

Regular breaks are not only necessary for you to enjoy the view; they also keep your energy and concentration up. Pack enough snacks to keep you going and plenty of water. It's always a memorable experience to have a picnic in the mountains anyway.

It's self-explanatory why you shouldn't leave the marked routes. It's very easy to lose track and end up in a scarp face. Don't underestimate steep grassy hills, snowfields or the danger of rock fall.

When hiking on your own, even small incidents can become a real threat. Thus it is always better to stay in small groups. If you can't or don't want to, please inform our reception staff and others about your route and when you are planning to return. In an emergency this will help to find you. Always take your mobile phone and a GPS unit, but consider that there might be no reception in some areas. European emergency number: 112.

We all love our the fantastic scenery, the peace and the fresh mountain air. The Alps are a unique natural reserve worth protecting. That's why you should keep it clean and take all your litter back with you. Try not to make too much noise, respect wildlife and don't pick any plants as many of them are protected.
